

Your Lucky Day

...by Devin Ramnarine & Tyrell Courtney

Most people don't think about being kind and if it wasn't for me and diving then cars wouldn't be started, grass wouldn't be cut and fights would happen. Devin and I then area out to set a new era of kindness .

It was about eighty five degrees out side and an elderly man was out cutting his grass and he was struggling with it. I offered to help him and he told no that he was alright and that he had it. After about five minute he left the lawn mower in his lawn. I noticed that he wasn't even half way done and I decided to take action. I ran across the street and started cutting away. It was about ten minutes later he came back outside and noticed that his lawn was cut nicely and every thing was put away. He offered to pay me money and I didn't except it. I told him "you would do the same for me."

It was Saturday afternoon, The Sun was hot but the wind had a slight chill. Tyrell and I were taking a couple of girls to the movies later. We decided to get our hair cut before the movie. After we left the shop we started walking across the street to the Commissary to meet Tyrell's mom to give us a ride home. As we begin to cross the street Tyrell finds a $20 dollar bill under his Jordan's . Then I noticed a Elderly man get into a blue Accord searching his pockets in confusion . Tyrell figured that it was the old man's dollar . He knocked on the window and raised the money . the old man rolled down the window and happily took back his money . He said thank you as he drove away with a big smile on his face .

The next day we were chilling at the basket court over at North Landing . We were playing a one on one game and Tyrell was winning 11-6 . Then a couple of guys across the court yelling at each other . I heard the guy saying to back off following with a push . Then the other guy connected a jab to his face . I ran over a pulled him back . As the same time Tyrell grabbed the other guy and made sure he won't swing back . After they decided to chill we let them go and they apologized to each other and walked of as friends .

Well people gave up on kindness and just go their own way , We gave it a second thought . People could have had a bad day if it wasn't for us .
